1. The Helpful links could be wrapped in an unordered list and be labeled by the H3. Markup could look like:

```
<h3 id="helpful-links-heading">Helpful Links</h3>
<ul aria-labelledby="helpful-links-heading">
  <li>
    <h4>
      Heading
    </h4>
    Descriptive paragraph
  </li>

  <li>
    <h4>
      Heading
    </h4>
    Descriptive paragraph
  </li>
</ul>
```

2. H3 links should be underlined. CSS change requested here: <https://github.com/department-of-veterans-affairs/vets-design-system-documentation/issues/157>
3. Download the PDF link info per <https://github.com/department-of-veterans-affairs/vets-design-system-documentation/issues/152#issuecomment-553127340>

Added aria-hidden="true" to  to suppress the injected text content (that renders the icon) from screen readers. To comply with WCAG, we edited link text to be clear about what the link does without the surrounding content. (2.4.4, 2.4.9 - "The link text MUST make sense in context, and should make sense when taken out of context (problematic phrases include: "click here," "learn more," "more," "read more," etc.).")"
